

75 percent of WSU's 260,000 alumni live in Michigan, providing leadership for the state's economic renewal.

About 30 percent of Michigan's practicing physicians — and more than 40 percent of practicing physicians in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties — received all or part of their medical training at Wayne State University.

75 percent of Wayne State Law School graduates live and work in Michigan.

- One of the nation's 50 largest public universities, with Michigan's most diverse student body.
- Nearly 350 degree and certificate programs in 13 schools and colleges.
- Annual research expenditures of nearly $214 million.
- More than 400 student organizations.
- Research partnerships with leading health care facilities, corporations, government agencies and nonprofit organizations — many of which are right at our doorstep.
- Affiliations with more than 100 institutions worldwide.
- Holds the Carnegie Foundation's highest research and community engagement classifications.
- Home to a vibrant campus community, with nearly 3,100 students living in WSU's apartments and residence halls.
- Wayne State is a partner with Michigan State University and the University of Michigan in the University Research Corridor, helping create a vibrant state economy.
- Nearly 1,700 full-time faculty members, renowned for their real-world experience.
- More than 1,600 students enrolled at the School of Medicine, which boasts a 95.8 percent residency match rate — well above the national average.
- Seventh-largest Detroit employer.
- $2.5 billion overall impact in Michigan.
- The Hilberry Theatre is the nation's first and longest-running graduate repertory theatre.
- Alumni of the College of Fine, Performing and Communication Arts include a Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist and recipients of and nominees for the Grammy, Emmy, Tony, Golden Globe, Obie, Screen Actors Guild and Caldecott awards.
- A leader in green technology, the College of Engineering was first in the nation to launch an electric-drive vehicle engineering program and offer an alternative energy technology master's program.
- Home to the National Institutes of Health's Perinatology Research Branch — the only NIH branch in the country dedicated to the study of premature birth and infant mortality.
- Study abroad opportunities in nearly 20 countries on five continents.
- One of only six Michigan universities selected for the Woodrow Wilson Teaching Fellowship program, designed to address a significant shortage of math and science teachers.
- More than 1,400 companies served by TechTown, Wayne State's research park and business incubator, since 2007.
- Home to 18 varsity athletic teams.
- Relationships throughout the Detroit area lead to countless business, employment and community opportunities as students take part in the city's dramatic revitalization.

Wayne State in 30 seconds

Since 1868, Wayne State University has been an engaged and motivated community of scholars in the heart of Detroit. Today, more than 27,000 students from nearly every U.S. state and 80 countries are pursuing degrees on our Midtown campus and five satellite campuses, earning an education at a nationally ranked research university strengthened by the culture, industry and diversity of its urban environment.

Wayne State University Board of Governors

Sandra Hughes O'Brien, chair, David A. Nicholson, vice chair, Michael J. Busuito, Diane L. Dunaskiss, Mark Gaffney, Marilyn Kelly, Dana Thompson, Kim Trent, M. Roy Wilson, ex officio